BUILDING BETTER CITIZENS

"Building Better Citizens" is the slogan for East Jordan Red Feather Drive starting a week from next Monday, October 29th and ending November 3rd. Our budget is $5,500. This includes continuing in our camping, recreation and scouting programs, it includes our school and community health activities, and underwriting the milk lunches for Kindergarten and First Grade.

Your Community Chest helps with funds for the Christmas baskets, provides shoes and clothing when needed, sponsors the square dances at the Tourist Park, as well as excursions for the children and takes care of many community needs.

We are also a part of the Michigan United Health and Welfare Drive, which includes most national health and welfare agencies, such as American Heart Association, Arthritis and Reheumatism Foundation, etc. The largest sum to be used outside East Jordan is for the revived U. S. O. and affiliates organized because of our increased national defense program.

$5,500 is a lot of money to raise, but we need every cent of it to continue all our projects. If you want to know your share, you might figure it out on this basis: if you are paid by the hour, you should give one hour's pay per month. This is the fourth year for the East Jordan Community Chest, and this is the largest budget. The reason for the increase is that the United Defense Funds needs more money for men and women in service, and we must do our share.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Ellen Raymond Held Wednesday

Funeral Services for Mrs. Ellen Raymond, who passed away Monday Morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nellie Knopp, were held Wednesday at 2:00 p.m. from Watsons Funeral Home. Obituary next week.

To Celebrate Their Golden Wedding Anniversary Next Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. Roscoe Smith of South Arm Twp. will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Saturday, Oct. 27th. To facilitate matters, on Sunday they plan to have a family dinner at noon, with "open house" for their many friends during the afternoon and evening.

More Land For Game Areas Made Available

Purchase of 7,817 acres for expanding state game and recreation areas, forests and starting the new Petersburg game area in Monroe county is being made by the conservation department.

Acquisition funds, totaling $132,333, are from a federal sporting arms and ammunition tax and from state hunting license fees. Some tracts have old buildings which will be sold as salvage, reducing actural land cost.

Initial purchase for the Petersburg area is 389 acres. It contains rabbits, fox squirrels, raccoon, fur-gearers and a few pheasants.

Additions to established game areas are: 214 acres, Rogue River, Kent county; 40 acres, Crane Pond, Cass county; 20 acres, Tuscola, Tuscola county; 118 acres, Murphy Lake, Tuscola county; 80 acres, Stanton, Montcalm county; 82 acres, Lowell, Kent and Ionia counties; 160 acres, Deford, Tuscola county; 43 acres, Martiny Lake, Mecosta county; 63 acres, Maple River, Clinton and Gratiot counties; 40 acres, Gregory, Livingston county; 266 acres, St. Clair Flats, St. Clair county; 64 acres, Cannonsburg, Kent county; 400 acres, Langston, Montcalm county; and 211 acres, Muskegon River, Muskegon county.

State forest expansions are: 3,906 acres, Presque Isle, Montmorency county; 680 acres, Pigion River, Cheboygan county; and 640 acres, Houghton Lake, Clare county.

Others are: 73 acres to the Highland recreation area and 121 acres to the Holly area, Oakland county; 200 acres, Porcupine Mountains park, Ontonagon county; and seven acres with 302 feet public fishing site frontage, Fox lake, Beaver island.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Pvt. Floyd J. Prevo, who gave his life in the service of his country, eight years ago in Italy.

His Mother, sister and brothers.

Hunting Accidents

CLOSE TO 28 PERSON WILL DIE IF AVERAGE PATTERN FOLLOWS AVERAGE

Close to 28 persons will die and another 150 will be injured if this season's hunting accident pattern follows the average of the last 10 years, the conservation department warns.

The fact that only a relative few—215 out of 1,052,000 licensed hunters—were casualties last fall and winter is of no consolation to the victims.

How will the casualties occur: Past hunting accidents investigations indicate most of them will be caused by: careless loading and unloading of the firearm in the presence of other hunters, a hunter unexpectedly moving into the line of fire, and tripping or falling while walking along or crossing a fence or other obstacle.

Considering all types of firearm mishaps, the hunter's greatest danger still will be the gun of a member of his own hunting party or his own gun. Hunting accident reports revial that in practically all cases the hunter shoots another hunter or himself; rarely is a non-hunter a victim.

What are the ages of the persons who will be responsible for this fall's accidents? Roughly 24 percent of them will be under 17 years of age, nine percent will be 18-20, 17 percent will be 21-30, 26 percent will be 31 and over, and about 23 percent of the ages will be unknown.

How to beat the law of averages? To keep from causing or being a hunting accident statistic this fall, the department stresses that you:

Be alert for sudden movements of the other hunter—signal him by whistling if there is any doubt that he is not aware of your presence.

Be positive of your target before pulling the trigger.

Carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle.

Carry only an empty gun (taken down or with the action open) in and out of your car, camp, and home.

16 Annual Pototo An Apple Show Oct. 31-Nov. 1, Petoskey

Emmet county's sixteenth annual potato and apple show, under joint sponsorship of the Petoskey Chamber of Commerce and the Emmet County Board of Supervisors, will be held at Petoskey Oct. 31 and Nov. 1. Awards will be made at the annual Grower-Merchant banquet, when members of the 400 Bushel Club and the premier potatoe grower will be announced. Winners will be entered in the Northern Michigan Potato and Apple show at Gaylord in November.

Plan Improvements At Dead Man's Hill To Be Resumed This Fall

Improvement of facilities at Dead Man's Hill, one of Michigan's outstanding scenic attractions, will be resumed this fall by the Michigan State Conservation Department, it has been announced by Ted Francis, supervisor of this area.

G. S. McIntyre, state forester, who will direct the work, has disclosed that two large areas for parking of motorcars will be established 825 feet short of the crest of the hill and that footpaths to the hill, lookout points and picnic areas will be built.

Six fireplaces, a dozen picnic tables and toilet facilities also will be installed, McIntyre said, planting of more trees atop the hill also is on the program.

A new road, off US-131 three miles north of Alba, was constructed last spring.

Notice to Bidders

Sealed proposals will be received by the City Clerk, of the City of East Jordan, Michigan, at her office in the City Building up to five o'clock p.m., E.S.T., on November 5, 1951, for Regular Gasoline for the City Gas Pump.

The right is reserved by the City of East Jordan to accept any proposal, to reject any proposal and to waive irregularities in proposals.

By order of the Common Council of the City of East Jordan.

Chirstmas Boxes

EAST JORDAN SERVICEMEN TO GET GREETING FROM HOME.

Representatives of seventeen local organizations met Thursday evening, October 11, at the American Legion Hall, and voted to send Christmas boxes to East Jordan servicemen and women as part of the Community Service Club program for 1951.

William Bennett, John Downing, Burl Braman and Charles Murphy, are the committee which will handle this program. Women of the American Legion Auxiliary have offered to pack and wrap the boxes. The first of which will be in the mail about November 1st. Over eighty local men now in the armed forces will be mailed one of these boxes.

During World War II, the Club sent a can of chicken in the boxes. The committee would like to do this again, and asks that anyone who could donate a chicken for this purpose to please deliver it alive to John Seiler within the next week.

Following considerable discussion, the Service Club also voted to recommend to the city council removal of the present World War II honor roll because of its unsightly condition.

Earl Clark, Jean Bugai and John Downing were appointed to work out construction details for an honor roll to be erected outside the Post Office for men and women currently in the armed forces.

Plans also were considered for placing a permanet honor roll, for all wars, in one of the civic buildings at some time in the future.

'Greg Boswell, sec'y-treasurer, reported that contributions to the Club fund have been made by the Blue Star Mohers, American Legion Auxiliary, Rebekah Lodge, Communiy Chest, Presbyterian Ladies Aid, Lutheran Ladies Aid and St. Joseph's Parish.

To Present Music Festival

AT CHARLEVOIX H.S. AUDITORIUM EVENING OF OCT. 24.

Two hundred fifty Charlevoix County rural school children will form a huge children's chorus to present a folk music festival in Charlevoix High School Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. Oct. 24.

In addition to singing American and European folk songs, the pupils will present a demonstration of American and Old English folk games. Dr. Olaf W. Steg, Head of the Music Department at Central Michigan College of Education, Mt. Pleasant, will direct the children of the chorus in their singing and folk game activities.

A chorus of teachers recruited from the Charlevoix, Emmet and Antrim County public and rural schools will also sing a group of songs under the direction of Thomas Dale, Music Director at Alanson; Mrs. Alta Drapeau Music Supervisor at East Jordan; and Wilmer Moyer, Choral Director at Petoskey High School.

Bob Spinner, dulcimer player from Central Michigan College of Education, will be a guest artist on the program. Bob, who is Michigan's outstanding younger dulcimer player and whose home is in Elk Rapids, will play a group of American Folk tunes including "Red Wing" and "Golden Slippers".

The Central Michigan College Country Dancers, directed by Jean Smith, faculty members of the Woman's Physical Education Department, will present a demonsration of American couple and square dances as the culminating feature of the evening's program.

Piano accompanists for the evening program will be Orthella DeNise, Wilma Moyer, and Roger Parrish. Local arrangements for the program are being made by Catherine C. Bergeon, Superintendent of Charlevoix County Schools and Roy G. Bennet, Charlevoix Superintendent.

There will be no admission charge for the program and the public is cordially invited.

If you are giving a large party you can make extra coasters out of luminum foil. Just draw circles on the foil an inch larger than the bottom of your drinking glasses and cut out with pinking shears. Then turn up the edges of the foil a quarter of an inch all around.

Red Devils Beat Boyne City, 12 to 0, Last Friday

FIFTH VICTORY IN A ROW SOMETHING TO CHEER ABOUT.

Coach Art Gilsepie's Boyne City High School "Ramblers" held the local high school "Red Devils" in check for three quarters at Boyne City's Brotherston Field last Friday evening before dropping a 12 to 0 decision to the visiting Jordanites.

The stubborn Boyne City defense just wouldn't give in to the Jordan offensive thrusts during the first three stanzas. Two fourth quarter touchdowns by Don Whiteford gave the locals their third conference win of the season and their fifth victory in a row.

The "Red Devil" line paced by seniors Dan and Bob Thomas battled the heavier Boyne forward wall to a stand still throughout the contest. The defensive work of the local linebackers contributed a great deal in the victory.

The victory marked the fourth year in a row that the locals have won over their arch rivals.

This week the "Red Devils" will run head-on into the high-flying Mancelona "Ironmen", who are undefeated in five games to date this season, when they meet Coach Matt Jacobson's squad at 3:00 p.m. Friday at the West Side Athletic Field. The Orange and Black will come here with a heavy, experienced, machine that has run roughshod over all opposition to date scoring 147 points offensively while holding its rivals to 7 tallies. A tie by the Harbor Springs "Rams" is the only blemish to an otherwise perfect season. Coach Saxton's forces have been battling the flu alll this week and are not expected to be at full strength for the first time this season. The Jordanites must win to remain on top of the Northern Michigan Class C. Conference standings.

Time Now For That Fall Tour

DAME NATURE PUTTING ON A SHOW THAT ALL SHOULD SEE.

Want to see a real magician at work? Beat a path to one of the state recreation areas.

Old Dame Nature is putting on a show which should be getting rave notices from more than a comparative handful of persons. Attendance in parks and recreation areas takes a dive shortly after Labor Day, about the time nature's autumn color extravaganza gets underway. The color riot now is at a climax and it should be enjoyed by more than just so-called "nature lovers."

Eye pleasers are the color-turning sassafras, woodbine and sumac. Even the poison ivy and poison sumac offer a brilliant splash of color for camera fans. Glimpses of a cottontail, a well-colored cock pheasant and other small game are part of the specatcle—especially enjoyed by the sportsmen with an eye for good stalking grounds come hunting time. Besides those hunters exercising their hounds, the mushroom pickers are out and an occasional fall hotdog roast can be observed. Swimming time has passed but fall fishing trips, one of the best of the year, are enjoyed by a few.

Receives Leg Injury In Gun Accident Last Friday

Jim Pollitt is a patient at Charlevoix Hospital, where he was taken Friday, following an accident in which he received a gun shot wound. Jim was cleaning his gun and did not know that it was loaded. The bullet went through his leg above the knee. Dr. Savory was called and took him to the hospital where his wound was dressed. His condition is improving satisfactorly.

Don't Be One In A Million

You undoubtedly won't live to be a million years old. And the chances are slim that you'll ever have a million dollars. But you may be one in a million to get killed in a traffic accident.

The millionth United States soldier was killed in Korea on Aug. 25 or 26. In 175 years, from the Battle of Bunker Hill to date, one million American men have died in battle. Think for a moment of the men who fell in the Battle of Gettysberg—in the trenches of World War I — in submarines — in the air — in Africa — on the Anzio Beach Head — the Battle of the Bulge — the landing on Normandy — on Io Jima — in the Phillipines — in New Quinea — at a cost of a Million Men and Billions of Dollars.

Sometime in late December this year the millionth person will be killed in traffic accident, in less than 50 years of automobiles — the most of them in the last 25 years. Last August set a record for one month in the U.S. Detroit is 27 deaths over last year to date, for a total of 175.

A woman driver was telling her friend "I stalled the car on the railroad crossing, and there was a train coming". Her husband interrupted with "There was no train coming". The wife continued, "Of course there was — a train was coming sometime". Which wasn't such a dumb statement.

And don't Get Caught In The Middle — In the middle of the block—cross at intersections.

Don't be One In a Million, before the last of Dec. help your relatives and friends have a Merry Christmas.

4H CLUB Achievements

South Arm 4-H News

The regular meeting of the South Arm Community 4-H Club was held Wednesday, Oct. 10, with a very good attendence of members present.

A brief discussion was held about the Hard Times Dance the club is sponsoring on October 24. This dance is for all community clubs in county.

The annual election of officers was held. The officers now are:
President, Jack Zoulek.
Vice President, Rose Marie Lehrbass.
Secretary, Ruth Hart.
Treasurer, Edna Craft.
Reporter, Margaret Zoulek.
Recreation leader, Rushell Hart
Song leader, Nan Drapau.

The club now has 44 active members. Some members carry as many as 8 projects a year.

The next meeting will be held November 7, at the Grange. Ed Redman will be present to show movies of the calf and pig scramble that was held at the county fair. Spoelman's club from Banks Township will be our guests at this meeting.

All members remember the "Hard Times Dance", on October 24, at the South Arm Grange Hall, starting at 8:00 p.m. Prizes will be given.

Auxiliary Plans For Christmas Getting Under Way

We are all well aware that the Christmas season is rapidly approaching and work is already being organized by the American Legion Auxiliary Rebec- Sweet Post Unit 227 to carry on their various programs, all members are reminded that the gifts for "The Gift Shop" must be in by the first meeting in November to be packaged and mailed, so if you are planing on contributing you are planning on contributing to get busy. It is hoped that a display of these gifts will appear in some show window in East Jordan to acquaint the people in town with this program. Gifts must be valued at at least $1.50. These articles are sent to the various Vet's Hospitals where veterans may choose as many gifts as they need to send home to their loved ones, at no cost to them, some of these men are with out any income and would not be able to remember their families at Christmas if this service were not available to them. It has been requested that nicely dressed dolls be sent especially, as there are never enough dolls to meet the need for them. "What hospitalized veteran wouldn't like to send his little girl at home, or his little sister, pretty doll for Christmas?" It also gives him the pleasure of giving as well as receiving. This program is open to anyone who wishes to participate not only Aux. members, as well as dolls pretty things for girls and women, other than lingerie which is prohibited, and gifts for men and boys especially articles acceptable for any age also desired. These gifts must be in by Nov. 6.

This is Membership Month and any-one who is eligible for membership in the Aux. and would like to join contact Shirley Isaman, membership chairman and she will be glad to write your application for membership, also a reminder to those who are already members, this is the time to pay your 1951 dues. Let us make this a top year in membership.

Evangelistic Meetings October 18th. - 30th. Finkton Community Bldg.

Rev. C. J. Rediger of Morton, Illinois, and director of the Rural Home Missionary Association, will be holding meetings for the Finkton Bible Fellowship at the Finkton Community Building starting Thursday evening at 8 p.m. continuning through the 30th.

We invite you to come and enjoy these meetings with us. Special music will be given each evening either by our folks or talent from nearby churches.

Rev. Rediger has been with us each fall since 1947. He is liked for his simple way in presenting the Gospel. He has also traveled widely over the States. One evening he will be showing pictures of the work of the Rural Home Missionary Association as well as some scenic pictures of the States.

There will not be any Saturday evening services.

Milk Day
25,000 Attend Fete

HARVARD, Ill.—One of the biggest crowds to ever attend Harvard's annual Milk Day were on hand June 14 for the 10th annual event. The crowd was estimated unofficially at between 20 and 25 thousand.

A colorful parade down Harvard's Milky Way to the Speedway grounds opened the festivities. In the mile long parade were floats, bands, children, pets, horses, cows and other entries.

The cattle show, held on June 13, was one of the best in the history of the event.

Eleven bands took part in the parade and festivities. They were, in addition to Harvard's high school outfit: Whitewater, Elkhorn, Lake Geneva, Darien, Sharon, in Wisconsin, and Crystal Lake, Lockport, Hebron, Huntley and Rochelle in Illinois.

Rural Bank Deposits Increase 3 to 20 Times in 10 Years

CHICAGO, Ill.—Country banks have shown an amazing growth during the past 10 years. These banks, being in rural areas, are largely farmer-owned and reflect farmer finances.

From a survey of 121 banks in seven midwestern states, all in towns of less than 600, with most of them in the 100-400 population class, showed deposits rose from three to 20 times, many of them 10 times, in the last 10 years.

One bank, in Gifford, Ill., increased its bank deposits from $168,000 in 1940 to $3,480,000, more than 20 times. In the same 10 years its population dropped from 500 to 359.

As an indication of how bank deposits have increased in the home towns, Wyatt, Ind., for instance, had 300 people in 1940 with a bank deposit of $250,000. In 1950 the population figure had dropped to 250, but money on deposit amounted to $4,335,000.

A few others: Aviston, Ill., $244,000 in 1940, $1,691,000 in 1950; Wever, Iowa, $361,000 in 1940, $1,278,000 in 1950; Riverdale, Nebraska; $272,000 in 1940, $1,862,000 in 1950.

In the states of Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Missouri the same story was generally true of banks in home towns of population less than 600.

The survey was made by J. W. Hough of Chicago, who became interested in the subject when he had occasion to look up a small-town bank he had helped organize 50 years ago and found, to his amazement, that it now had deposits just under $1 million.

Village Votes Two Times On Building New School

MIDDLEVILLE, Mich.—For the second time within a month the people of Middleville voted against a $155,000 bond issue to construct a new five room elementary school building.

The second special election was called as a result of being petitioned by residents who expressed the belief it would result in a favorable vote because they thought many people misunderstood the issues in the first election.

The bond proposal was defeated by a vote of 432 to 341.

The big question in the election that may have caused the negative vote concerned the location of the school. Many wanted it built in a new location, while others wanted it on property adjacent to the present school.

Those who advocated a new location did so because they believed little children of the village should not be forced to walk at least a mile to their school across a dangerous railroad crossing, a more dangerous bridge and a still more dangerous state highway.

The school problem, which has had the community in an uproar for almost two months, may come up for another vote. Those who advocated the construction of the school on property adjacent to the present school may petition for a vote.

War-Casualty Pen Is Returned; No Thanks

FORT MADISON, Iowa—It's a long way from the South Pacific to the little town of Fort Madison on the banks of the Mississippi, but a fountain pen that was "missing and presumed lost" in action five years ago has just made that trip and rejoined its owner.

It came to the home office of the Sheaffer pen company, sent in by a man who wanted it repaired per the guarantee under which, he said, he had "bought" it. The pen was brought to the attention of Bud Covington for two reasons: One, it had Bud's name printed on it; Two, Covington is inspection foreman for the repair department.

So the pen was repaired but it will stay here, also for two reasons: One, it was Bud's pen to begin with; Two, the man who sent it in was one of Bud's shipmates on the USS Tolland in Pacific waters at the time the pen was "lost". Apparently he didn't know Bud had such a "strategic" position in the pen business.

Committee Chairmen Appointed By Aux. President

The American Legion Aux. Rebec-Sweet Post Unit 227 held their first meeting of the year Tuesday. Oct. 9 with the new officers in the chairs. Martha Kamradt, President, read the names of the Chairman who will carry on the work of the various standing committees, those appointed were — Eva Peterson, Americanism; Reva Walton, Child Welfare; Bernadine Brown, Community Service; Mildred St. Charles, Constitution and by-laws; Edna Wilkins, Civilian Defence; Mary Hayes, Education of War Orphans; Agnes Woodcock, Gold Star Mothers; Marriettia Walden, Jr. Activities; Thora Kotowich, National Security; Annabelle Galmore, Pan American; LaVera Ingalls, Poppy; Marie Rebec, Child Deliquency; Jean Peterson, Raido; Florence Stucker, Rehabilitation; Marie Woodcock, Sewing; Peg. Thomas, Girls State; Ann Kamradt, Memorial Sholorship; Hilda Bathke, Past Pres. Parley; Marge Reed, Kitchen Fund; Lillian Bennett, Cards and Flowers; there are still a few chairmen to be named at a later date. These chairmen will be calling on members from time to time for assistance in their work and it is hoped they will have the whole-hearted support of the enire Unit. Each year the work of the Auxiliary is increasing and covering a wider field so we must be prepared and willing to lend assistance when even needed, it will take the whole Unit as a team to accomplish the tasks which lie ahead, in our own community as well as the nation.

A very thourgh report on the Lower 11th. District meeting, held recently at Mackinaw City and attended by 14 members of Unit 227, was read by Eldeva Gokee; Peg Thomas, Sgt. at Arms, presented Edna Wilkins, Past Pres. with a beautiful gift from the Unit as a token of appreciation for her untiring work as Pres. the past two years. Edna. then thanked the girls for the gift and also for the fine co-operation she received during her term in office, and said it was a pleasure to work with each and everyone, she also said she was proud of what had been accomplished during that time and expressed her wishes for the continued success in the work of the Unit. Mildred St. Chrles introduced Eva Ollila, formerly a member of the Aux. at Cario, Mich. who has transferred to Unit 227. We are all very happy to welcome her in our midst.

A nice party following the meeting this was to have been a birthday party, but as no one was present whose birth date was in Sept. the gifts were auctioned off to the highest bidders with much laughing and joshing each other and which also helped the flower fund. A nice lunch was served by Florence Stucker, chairman of the evening. This ends the birthday party program and from now on the entertainment for the semi-social meetings will be decided on by the chairman for that particular evening. This being Membership Month, Shirley Isaman, membership chairman announced that there would be a Halloween Party after the meeting Tuesday, Oct. 23, all members are to come in costume, not masked, and prepared for fun. So don't forget Oct. 23, Halloween Party at the Legion home, following short business meeting.

SOUTH ARM....
(Edited by Mrs. Arnold Smith)

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Smith will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Oct. 27th. On Sunday they plan to have a family dinner at noon with open house for their many friends during the afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Smith and sons, Joe and David were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Smith and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Goebel attended a birthday party Friday night for Bill Korthase at his home.

Several neighbors attended the East Jordan, Boyne City foot ball game Friday night; it was really an exciting and good game.

Alma Hart, Helen Campau, Irene Lehrbass, Sadie Liskum, Olive Smith and Archie and Georgia Murphy were among the leaders who attended the supper at Charlevoix, given the 4-H club leaders of Charlevoix county.

Rev. and Mrs. Tompson and children were supper guests last Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moore, the occasion being Mr. Moores birthday.

Mike Eaton is busy this week geting his beets out for the Ellsworth Cannery.

Mrs. Ed Lehrbass and daughter Barbara and Bob Pearsall went to Traverse City Saturday night to Meet Ed Lehrbass who came in there on a bus from Chicago.

Harold Goebel is getting along nicely with his new milk house having it nearly completed now.

Plan Grass Days For 1952

Grass Days will be held throughout Michigan again in June of 1952 it was announced this week by C. V. Ballard, director of the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service.

"The fourth annual series of events in 1951 attracted more than 14,000," reported Director Ballard. "In four years we have reached nearly 80,000 people in 31 different counties in lower Michigan and five in the Upper Peninsula. Interest in our program of good farming with good grasses and legumes has continued to increase. For that reason we have asked our state Grass Days committee to arrange another series of events for June of 1952."

Richard Bell, farm crops extension specialist at Michigan State College, reports that plans are now being made for events in these locations:

Berrien couty—John, Dale and Harry Foster farm near Niles.

Clinton county—A. J. Cable farm near Bath.

Lapeer county — Irvin Hasgill farm near Lapeer.

Mecosta county—Eldon Thompson farm near Mecosta.

Iosoc county—James Mielock farm near Whittemore

Emmet county—Kenneth Bare farm near Peoskey.

As in years past, local committees will work with the county extension staffs in making arrangements for these events. Demonstration plots are now being set up in order to show the values of fertilizer and recommended management practices. USDA Councils will cooperate in many of the counties as will other governmental agencies.

Go in the Front Gate and Ask the Farmer First

Go in the front gate instead of over the back fence and "Ask The Farmer First."

This is the slogan of conservation clubs which the state conservation department also has printed on every hunting license and game law digest folder as a hunter reminder.

Most state-owned land is open to hunting without special permission but the hunting license positively does not give the hunter the privilege of entering private property without the owner's consent.

Give the landowner the same consideration for his property that you would expect if it were yours.

Crime in America

By ESTES KEFAUVER
United States Senator

Four of a Series

Greasy Thumb and Chicago Politicians

Two Chicago hoodlums in whom the Senate Crime Committee had particular interest were Jacob Guzik and Anthony Accardo. We felt these infamous, rather strangely assorted partners might hold a key to the whole question of organized interstate crime, so widely dispersed were their nefarious activities.

Accardo, back when he was a strong-arm man in Chicago's underworld and reputedly a bodyguard for the late "Machine-Gun Jack" McGurn, used an appropriate alias—"Joe Batters."

Guzik is a pouchy-eyed little man of 64, with a ravaged face that looks as if it were made of wax left too long near a hot fire. The warrant for his arrest as a missing witness was not served on him until the final week of our scheduled public hearings.

Guzik is a manipulator rather than a muscle man; he acquired his nickname—Greasy Thumb— from the fact that he was business manager and pay-off man for Al Capone.

It is a strange quirk of gangdom that these two men should be partners and joint leaders of the Capone syndicate. Police records show that Accardo was picked up in 1945 for questioning about a gang style kidnaping of Guzik, who reputedly had to pay $75,000 to regain his freedom. Nothing ever came of this episode, for Guzik stoutly insisted it was just a misunderstanding over a "business transaction."

We didn't learn much directly from either. Accardo answered only a few elementary questions refusing even to tell about things already part of police and court records.

The gray-visaged Guzik was worse. When we asked him his age, he refused to answer on the grounds that it might "incriminate me or tend to incriminate me." After he had parroted this monotonous phrase some 80 times, Senator Wiley asked if he had consulted a lawyer; Guzik answered that he had not.

"Where did you get this phrase you have been using all the time?" asked Senator Wiley.

"I have heard it on television," Guzik replied.

Though we did not learn much from Guzik and Accardo, we learned a good deal about them. One topic we explored was their shadowy association with "policy wheel" operation.

In Chicago's teeming Negro district, "policy wheels"—a variety of the "numbers" racket in which are daily drawings for combinations of winning numbers—have come to be big business. An estimated $1.5 billion has been played on them in the past five years. Operations of this magnitude, of course, could not exist without graft being paid to dishonest police for protection.

There is a melancholy moral in this when one considers that the staggering sum is amassed from the nickels, dimes and quarters of the inhabitants of some of the worst slums in America. There are numerous wheels operating—with fanciful names such as the "Roman Silver," the "Calcutta-Green Dragon," the "Jack-Pot Whirlaway-Alabama-Georgia."

The Capone mob, of course, could not keep its hands off such a bonanza. Coincidentally, numerous instances of violence — kidnapings, bombings and such—began cropping up.

One witness we summoned was Edward Jones, a one-time Pullman porter. He was a partner with his wife, mother, brother and two other men in a policy wheel known as "The Maine, Idaho and Ohio." Its net profits, 1946 through 1949, came to $3,656,968.22.

In 1946, Ed Jones was kidnaped and held until his family paid $100,000 ransom. Even though five years had elapsed since the kidnaping at the time we questioned him, the exporter, who wore a huge starsapphire ring, was exceedingly timorous. He insisted he did not even know whether his abductors were white persons or Negroes because they were "blind-folded" at the time.

Whether Jones was kidnaped solely for ransom, or whether it was a "muscle" operation whereby gangsters took over part of the business, never has been established. Jones himself denies that the "Main-Idaho-Ohio" has been "muscled." However, Ed Jones and his brother, George—though each continues to draw a 20 per cent share of the profits—have lived in Mexico City since the kidnaping.

Our Chicago hearings also provided a case history of how a one-time hoodlum can establish himself in a legitimate business and become enormously wealthy. The case was that of Joseph Charles (Joe) Fusco, 48, now the operating vice-president of Gold Seal Liquors, Inc. (wholesale distributors), a stockholder in four other liquor distributing companies and part-owner of a brewery.

From a sales volume standpoint, Fusco boasted Gold Seal was Chicago's "No. 1" dealer. His own net worth was possibly $1,000,000 and the book value of Gold Seal alone, of which he owns 25 per cent, was $2,200,000, he told us.

Virgil Peterson of the Chicago crime commission gave us this thumbnail report: "Joe Fusco designated several years ago as a public enemy, during the prohibition era, was a principal lieutenant in the Capone syndicate, handling the manufacture and distribution of illicit beer. He is presently suspected of being the respectable front in the liquor industry for the syndicate . . . It has been stated that the syndicate owns or controls at least 17 per cent of the retail liquor stores in Chicago . . . "

Peterson also identified Rocco De Stefano, with whom Fusco admitted doing business, as an "important syndicate man."

Painfully, with the witness making long speeches at almost every question, Committee Counsel Rudolph Halley extracted from Fusco some details of how he gave away 20 to 25 cases of whiskey as Christmas gifts to public officials and other friends. Practically every cop in the district came around at Christmas time for a bottle or two, Fusco said. He became belligerent when asked who received his Christmas liquor. "If you were in Chicago," he barked at Halley, "maybe I would send you a case, too."

Halley retorted: "Maybe I would return it to you."

"I don't know," said Fusco, arrogantly. "I have never got any back."

There was an ugly aftermath to Fusco's appearance. Apparently the mob got the idea that he had "talked." Ten days later a black powder bomb went off in the doorway of his Gold Seal warehouse. The newspapers captioned a picture of Fusco inspecting the damage: "He Talked to Kefauver."

Everywhere we went, the committee found political immorality, but in Chicago the rawness was particularly shocking. I previously mentioned Dan Serritella, simultaneously a state senator, scratch sheet operator, and business partner with Greasy Thumb Guzik. We accumulated evidence that proved the connections of the Capone gang with politicians of both major parties. The mobsters played politics strictly for their own interests. When we asked ex-Caponeite Philip D'Andrea whether Capone had been a Republican or Democrat, D'Andrea replied: "He was a Republican when it fitted his clothes, I guess, and a Democrat otherwise."

The pro-Capone bloc in the legislature included Democrats and Republicans alike. For instance, Virgil Peterson testified that Sen. Roland Libonati, a Democrat, "has been pictured with Al Capone and with 'Machine-Gun Jack' McGurn."

Another bloc member was James J. Adducci, a Republican and for 18 years a member of the Illinois legislature. Mr. Adducci appeared before us and outlined his political philosophy and certain facets of his career. He has been a friend and consort of numerous notorious Capone gangsters, and admitted having been arrested frequently himself on numerous charges—including kidnaping—but never convicted.

For eight years, according to Adducci, he has been getting a commission of "between $5,000 and $6,000 or $6,500" by selling stationery and envelopes to the state. He also boasted of having control of about 40 patronage jobs, including 10 men on the staff of the sheriff of Cook county, and "a couple of highway police." Adducci cynically told us that "my conscience made me" oppose the crime commission bill. Asked if he ever had studied the bill, Adducci roughly answered: "Hell, no, I didn't study it!"

"I come from a very funny district," he also told us. "I have every element there is in the world, I guess, in my district, I have the pimp, the pack-roller, the safe-blower, the dope fiend and every other damned thing in there. I mean, I come from the West Side of Chicago, a very poor district. All those elements are in there. Skid Row, you may have heard of Skid Row."

The chairman: "You never have any trouble getting elected, do you?"

Adducci: "No, I don't, Senator."

THE WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

BY...DREW PEARSON

No War This Year

THE month of September and early October when the harvest is in is the time when the chanceries and general staffs of Europe watch closest for signs of war. If Europe can get by this period of dry, mild weather before winter bogs down an attacking army, they figure there will be no danger of war at least until June.

Top U. S. officials, likewise, have made all-important surveys of the war possibility, and it is possible for this column to report what their general conclusions are:

1. Russia will not launch World War III this year. However, Russia is expected to continue pressing war by satellites.

2. China, not Russia, has been more eager for a truce. The U.S. war study indicates that Russia came out with the truce proposal chiefly for propaganda purposes; perhaps to stall for time in order to get new arms to Korea.

3. Next step in Communist aggression is likely to be Burma, Thailand, and Indo-China. This area is all-important to the Kremlin if the millions of China are to have rice. Moscow would probably gamble on starting World War III in these countries, though she doesn't actually want it.

4. In Iran the Russians will probably march into the northern province of Azerbaijan and take it by force—if the British go into southern Iran to protect their oil refinery. Here again the Russians are willing to gamble that the west will not go to war over Iran.

5. In Germany, the U. S. analysis does not anticipate a Russian military move, but does foresee a continual army build-up.

Behind Iron Curtain

Increasing evidence is coming back from inside the iron curtain to show that the freedom-friendship balloons and other activities of the crusade for freedom have really got under the Kremlin's skin.

In east Bohemia, for instance, fields where the balloon messages fell were declared "off-limits" to farm workers by security sections of the national Communist committee. In another section of Bohemia, Communist officials offered rewards to the teams of youth brigades who collected the largest number of friendship leaflets.

Near the Czech-Austrian border, a patrol of border police reported "voluminous flying objects" which might be enemy paratroopers. When Prague got the report, it dispatched tank units amid great excitement.

The flying objects, however, turned out to be pillow balloons with the word "Svoboda"—"freedom"—written on them in large letters. They were bouncing along the ground in the early morning twilight like miniature flying saucers. Inside of them, of course, were friendship messages from the American people to the people of Czechoslovakia.

Weeding Out Bureaucrats

It hasn't received any publicity, but President Truman has ordered a drastic housecleaning to sweep the drones from federal government. An ultimatum has already gone out to all agencies to clean house or face budgetary and personnel cuts.

"The present emergency has caused great demands on the manpower resources of our country with shortages of manpower in certain special areas already being felt . . . The federal government, as the largest single employer in the country, should set the example. Therefore, I expect the head of each executive department and agency to bring about maximum effectiveness and economy in the utilization of personnel," the President wrote in identical letters to civil service chairman Robert Ramspeck and budget director Frederick Lawton.

Truman ordered them to "request reports from all departments and agencies and conduct regular inspections and surveys so that reports can be made to me on progress in conserving manpower.

"This manpower conservation program should be given top priority throughout the executive branch," the President added.

As a result, Ramspeck and Lawton sent a joint ultimatum to all agencies to "take steps to assure the most effective and economical use" of manpower.

Washington Pipeline

Though she stands aces with new Secretary of Defense Lovett, dynamic Assistant Secretary Anna Rosenberg may resign. She was brought in by George Marshall to cut the waste out of armed services' manpower and has nearly accomplished her mission . . . In a swift week-end operation, Michigan's Sen. Blair Moody and Walter Reuther, of the auto workers, talked defense mobilizer Charley Wilson out of $300,000 in contracts.

Oct. Weather

We who live in Northern Michigan like to boast about our October weather. So far this month it hasn't been worth writing about to our summer people, who also like to come north to enjoy the wonderfully colored landscape. Unless we get too much rain and storm this week, next week end should see some beautiful scenery in the northern country. One beautiful spot in the local area is the view from the top of the Hog Back Hill, about a mile south of Norman Bartlett's place.

Although it seems we have had an excess of rain recently, the rain gauge show that in September we had a total of 4.72 inches, which is only 20-199 inches over the 20 year average. Much of this came in light rain or drizzle, so that during the month we had 18 cloudy or partly cloudy days, which is excessive.

To date in October we have had 2.86 inches of rain, against an average fall of 3.67 inches for October.

Our maximum temperature last week was 76 degrees, with a low of 37 Saturday night.

Charlevoix 4-H Leaders Elect:

At a meeting held Tuesday, October 2 in the Community Building at Whiting Park 4-H leaders elected Mrs. Henry Erber of Boyne City as president of the Charlevoix County Leaders Club. For vice-president they elected Lyle Peters of Route, 2, East Jordan and for secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Ann Nason. The election of officers was a part of the regular business meeting of the organization. The organization has been ably served in the past by Mrs. R. V. Liskum of Route 3, East Jordan. Plans for 4-H leaders meeting to be held October 15 were made and arrangements for the meeting are now complete. The meeting has been scheduled for 5:00 p.m. in the dining room of the Church of God in Charlevoix. A program designed to assist leaders with their 4-H program will be carried out. State club leaders Mollie Vasold and Kenneth Ousterhout will be present. The leaders will be served a pot-luck supped by the ladies of the church of God.

Hunting Warning!

Do not load your gun until you have actually started to hunt.

For hunting safety the conservation department also emphasizes that you:

Stay in line with the hunting party—do not lag behind or move ahead of the line;

Do not hunt with the safety of;

Use special caution in loading and unloading the gun;

Carry muzzle either up or down—pointing away from any other hunter;

Be positive of your target;

Never carry the gun while climbing over or through fences;

Be positive your gun is unloaded both in the barrel and magazine before entering camp, car or home.

If you get too much bluing in a garment on washday, you can remove most of it by soaking the article in a gallon of water to which two or three spoonfuls of vinegar have been added, Michigan State College home economists advise homemakers.

Kaesong Out As Conference Site; 934 OPS Violations Are Reported

HOUR OF DECISION—For weeks the people in the home towns o the country have held to the hope of peace in Korea through negotiations This hope all but died last week as Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of th U.S. joint chiefs of staff, following a conference in Tokyo with Gen. Mat thew Ridgway, gave an irrevocable "no" to Communist demands that th United Nations send negotiators back to Kaesong to resume the peac talks.

As an alternative, the UN command offered to meet the Reds at Songhyon in no-man's-land. At the same time, Gen. James Van Fleet, commander of the eighth army, issued a warning that has been interpreted as a thinly veiled threat. He implied, in a statement announcing the opening of an Allied fall offensive, that his forces are capable of driving the Reds completely out of North Ko rea.

History Made

U. S. marines in Korea recently added another chapter to their long record of firsts when, in "operation summit," they landed on a mountain by helicopter.

Should the Reds refuse to meet the Allies at Songhyon and do not suggest another meeting place, which is considered possible in many quarters, the newspapers of America will be filled with news of all-out war in Korea during the next few months.

Some observers believe the Chinese do not want to fight another winter campaign. In this hour of decision, in which Communist and Allied forces face each other across a bloody and war-torn Korea, the hope of peace rests squarely on the Chinese.

In his announcement that his forces are capable of driving the Reds from North Korea, Van Fleet said that the Allies inflicted 188,237 casualties on the enemy during the past four months. This is equal to approximately 10 Red divisions.

Since the war began the United Nations forces have inflicted an estimated 1,200,000 casualties on the North Korean and Chinese. United States army officials estimate the Reds now have 400,000 men on the fighting front with another 200,000 in immediate reserve.

NEW DRAFT CALL—More men from the home towns of the nation face a draft call during November and December with the announcement last week that 55,900 men will be called for duty in the army and marine corps.

The latest call will bring to 734,680 the men called since the draft was resumed in 1950. The marines have taken 41,680 of the total.

The 39,000 needed in November is 5,300 more than previously announced. Present strength of the corps is about 211,000 officers and men. Of the total, the marines will take 19,900 men.

TAX BILL—By the time this appears in print the house and senate committee may have finished its work on the new tax increase measure and reported it in final form. The senate version calls for a $5.4 billion boost in taxes; the house $7.2 billion. Whatever the final figure, the total tax bill will be one of the largest in the nation's history.

Last week's tax news, however, was not confined to the new tax bill. Of interest was the announcement by Senator George that the new bill "is the last tax-increase bill I will support short of all-out war or a war crisis."

The senator's announcement was of special significance in that he is chairman of the senate finance committee and it is his job to guide tax measures through the senate.

He pointed out that the new tax measure will increase revenues to $67 or $68 billion a year in a full year's operation, an all-time high. "That is enough to spend in a year," he said. "It is about $15 billion more than we should spend even with a stepped-up defense program."

Then he added, "There must be a cut. I know there can be cuts if there is any strong will in the executive department."

Without Senator George's support any future tax measure would have little, if any, chance of getting through the senate.

MEAT-RULE VIOLATIONS—The office of price stabilization made the startling announcement that its agents have found 934 violations of meat regulations, involving 435 slaughterhouses, in raids in every section of the country. Two out of every five of the 1,145 slaughtering plants check were found violating beef regulations.

Michael V. DiSalle, price stabilizer, made a bitter attack on the meat industry when the violations were announced. He said, "The price of beef is a vital element in the housewife's table budget and it must be held within reason. Surely if the members of the meat industry, who have been putting selfish interest against the nation's economic health, will stop to think of this, they will join with the great mass of people and help us keep the American economy on an even keel."

If found guilty of breaking OPS regulations, violators can be fined damages of three times the amount of price overcharges, and sentenced to a year in jail and a $10,000 fine, or both.

POPULATION SHIFT—Since 1790 the center of population in the United States has continued to move westward. The new center, established by the 1950 census, is located eight miles northwest of Olney, Ill. It is 42 miles west and 7½ miles south of the 1940 center near Carlisle, Ind.

The new shift reflects the westward and southward migrations that took place during World War II when new industries moved into these areas, census bureau officials reported. The trend is expected to continue as more and more industries move west and south.

On the 18th of this month a marker will be erected in the cornfield on the farm of Mr and Mrs. Carl Snider where the center is located. Nobody lives within half a mile of the point Once a farm home stood 200 feet from the point.

The population center's westward movement has totaled 664 miles in the last 160 years. In 1790 the center was 23 miles west of Baltimore

UNITED DEFENSE FUND—The united defense fund has joined with the national community chest campaign this year in an effort to raise $18,624,854 to carry on its work. Of the total, $16,511,854 is being sought through chests and the remainder will be raised in New York city and other non-chest areas. Bulk of the funds—$13,658,207—will go to USO

The united defense fund was formed in November, 1940, to raise funds for services to the armed forces through USO and other organizations; to aid defense-impacted communities through united community defense services; and to help process clothing collected by American relief for Korea.

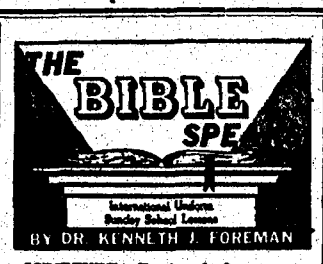

The annual community chest drive was opened September 30 with a nation-wide radio address by President Truman. Community chest officials said their best estimate of the combined total to be raised by individual chests this year is $250,000,000.

REDS IN U. S.

U.S. Communist Party Falling Apart

According to the latest survey of the Communist party in the United States, the Reds are in a bad way. Authorities on the subject report the party is broke, its leadership done for or demoralized, its "brains" tied up trying to defend court cases, and its rank and file so confused the members are pulling out.

J. Edgar Hoover, F.B.I. chief, reports the party membership has declined to 37,000 compared with a claim of 74,000 in 1947. As for finances, it has been unable to raise funds like it used to and those it gets go to the defense of 67 leaders convicted of facing trial. A drive in April to get $374,895 realized only $200,000. The financial picture is unlikely to improve since membership continues to decline rapidly in all parts of the country.

Seeing God's Hand

Lesson for October 21, 1951

NOBODY is ever, in all his life, actually as wise as he thinks he is when he is about 17 years old. We have a remarkable case of this in the Bible, the story of a man whose viewpoint, between his 17th and 56th birthdays, completely changed. It is the story of Joseph.

Dr. Foreman

At the age of 17, Joseph was about as nearly insufferable as any one ever has a chance to be. He was the oldest son of the favorite wife of a wealthy cattle-owner named Jacob. Old Jacob needed all the hands he could use, to look after his sheep and cattle; and he put all twelve of his sons to work. Eleven of them had real work; Joseph, though next to the youngest of them all, was a kind of boss or overseer. At least that is what his father intended.

He dressed the boy not in working clothes like the others but in fancy clothes, and used to send him around to see what the other boys were up to. Naturally Joseph's brothers did not take to all this; in fact they hated him so hard that they were on the point of murdering him.

On the very day of the proposed murder, however, the brothers discovered a chance to sell him as a slave. So Joseph was sold off to some traveling slave-traders, and for all his brothers knew or cared, he was off to a lingering death.

• • •

Where Was the Hand of God?

JOSEPH expressed no opinion about this at the time. (He was probably gagged.) But judging from his general character and behavior at that time of his life, it is no trouble to guess his thoughts. He was "fit to be tied"; indeed, he must have been tied on a camel's back, for no slave-trader in his senses would make Joseph walk the 200 miles to Egypt.

The better his condition on arrival, the higher the price. (As it turned out, a very wealthy man bought him; perhaps only a wealthy man could afford him.)

If you had asked Joseph while he was being hauled down to Egypt and the slave-market, Where is God in all this? Joseph might well have answered: "Nowhere. The devil is in this, or my devilish brothers. Nobody means any good by it. The only reason they are selling me instead of killing me is that they are making a little by it; these slave-traders are certainly not in business for their health. I am the only son my father trusted, and now I shall die a wretched death in a strange land."

• • •

The Wisdom of the Years

WHAT was Joseph at seventeen. At the age of 56 he saw a different picture. Many strange years had passed; Joseph had been slave and then prisoner; then by a dramatic turn in his fortunes he had risen overnight to be the top food administrator, price controller and economic stabilizer, all in one, for the great empire of Egypt.

His brothers, driven by famine, had fled to Egypt for help, and Joseph, after playing cat-and-mouse with them for months, at last told them (to their great terror) who he was. But he had returned good for evil; had invited down his whole family, father, brothers and all, and given them refuge in a corner of Egypt. At last Jacob died.

The brothers, who made the mistake of thinking Joseph no better than themselves, had supposed that all Joseph was waiting for was his father's death. Now would be the time for Joseph's long-delayed vengeance. Possibly Joseph the boy had dreamed of just such an hour. But Joseph the man was wiser. To his brothers, cowering before him, he said a memorable thing: "You meant it for evil, but God meant it for good." (Gen. 50:20.)

He still had no illusions about his brothers. They had been a bad lot. But God "meant it for good." That wicked act, selling him into slavery, had been the unintentional means of saving hundreds of lives. Joseph now, with the wisdom of his 56 years, can see the hand of God which his 17-year-old eyes could not see at all.

So in times of distress the thought should come to each of us: God's hand may just now be out of sight, but some day, looking back even on this distress we too shall see the hand of God.

One of Gov. G. Mennen Williams' thickest platform planks was scored at the Gatlinburg, Tenn. conference for governors. For years Williams has harped against the "lien law"—the legislation which allows the state to recover public assistance grants from the estates or persons who had relatives who were able but unwilling to support them.

Oscar R. Ewig, federal security administrator, stood up before the governors and said quite innocently that he favored such laws. This is the law which Williams says prove the Republicans are heartless skin flints willing to squeeze money out of the old folks.

The Prohibition party has demanded the ouster of officials who do not enforce the law. A convention resolution asked the governor to eliminate public officials who are obeying their oaths of office—whatever that means—and replace them with men of proven reliability.

The convention also accused the state liquor control commission of violating liquor laws, of granting more licenses than law permits and of aiding the promotion of skid rows.

A fancy new type civil defense rescue truck is touring Michigan in an attempt to persuade local defense officials to buy one. Designed by federal CD experts, the truck will sell for $8,500 if mass produced, with an additional $4,000 of rescue equipment. Federal funds are expected to be available for states and cities to buy the vehicles on a 50-50-matching basis.

The designation of Oct. 12-18 as "Poetry Week" caps the list of "weeks" intelligent people are supposed to observe. Already there are more "weeks" proclaimed than the year contains.

The petitions seeking a referendum on the state's one-and-a-half per gallon gasoline tax are under scrutiny. Twelve Michigan cities are spot checking the signatures. Validity of 10 persent of the signatures will be investigated Checking cities: Detroit, Dearborn, Highland Park, Mt. Clemens, Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, Grand Rapids, Lansing and Jackson.

Michigan's $300,000,000 unemployment compensation fund is being audited to give the public and the MUCC a clear view of the unemployment compensation picture.

Did you know? Michigan's population is officially 6,371,766, seventh ranking among states. Michigan is the second largest state east of the Mississippi. Largest? Uh-huh, not Pennsylvania, Georgia.

Three in every 100 children in Michigan are reared on public welfare rolls. State bill is $2,300,000 per month.

On the heels of the announcement that Michigan's draft quota was being upped, it was revealed that enlisted veterans of World War II who had been called back to service would be released by Christmas. Machinations of military minds defy comprehension.

The famed "Vandenberg diaries" will be published soon. The late senator was a meticulous note-taker and the diaries may shed o bit of light on many a point concerning foreign relations. The diaries will be published through a syndicate in many newspapers and later will appear as a book.

Trout planting crews have stocked Michigan streams and other waters with nearly 2,000,000 trout so far this year.

Sen. Frank Andrews, Republicans from Hillman says its time the bingo question was straightened out. He plans to introduce a bill legalizing bingo and small-time raffles sponsored by lodges, veterans organizations, churches, chamber of commerences and etc. A "worthy cause" would be required.

Only 4,000 volunteers have signed up as aircraft spotters in the ground observer corps of the civil defense set-up. Some 15,000 are needed.

Year's toll in forest fires thus far is less than 4,000 acres burned over in Michigan from 628 fires—a small drop over last year. Wet fall has held down late damage.

Last year 275 Michigan residents died in fires. Some 16,000 home fires caused estimated damag of $9,000,000.

Suggest Methods To Control Lice In Cattle Herds

A pre-winter treatment of cattle for lice should be included on the schedule for a warm day in late October or any time during November.

Ray L. Janes, extension specialist in entomology at Michigan State College, says that the ideal time for treatment would be as late as possible in the season. But should not be delayed so late that cold weather will prevent use of a spray.

For dairy animals Janes recommends using methoxychlor at the rate of 8 pounds of the 50 percent wettable powder to 100 gallons of water, or 8 level tablespoonsful to 1 gallon of water You may use either DDT of methoxychlor at the same rate for beef cattle or dry stock—cows that won't be freshening within 60 days, that is.

Lindane may be used for a single treatment only for dairy cows. Use no more than 1 pound of the 25 percent wettable powder to 100 gallons of water or 1 level tablespoonsful to a gallon of water. If more treatments are needed lindane should not be used on an animal producing milk for human use, unless the milk is used some other way for 3 days after treatment, Janes warned. And not more than one lindane treatment should be used on dairy animals freshing within 60 days.

One and a half pounds of 25 percent wettable powder lindane may be used to 100 gallons of water for beef animals and dry stock. Repeat treatments may be used if necessary although more than two treatments normally are not needed.

Janes also pointed out that neither DDT nor lindane should be applied within 60 days of slaughter of any animal. Methoxychlor wettable powder may be used up to 30 days before slaughter.

WIDE VARIETY IN LINE AND DESIGN OF WINTER COATS

A wide variety in line and design awaits the woman who is planning to add a new coat to her winter wardrobe.

According to Marjorie Eastman, extension clothing specialist at Michigan State Colege, you may choose from a flared, straight-line or fitted model. You may select a full-length,three- fourths or fingertip length.

The full, pyramid coat continues to be popular, Miss Eastman points out, but a pared-down version is usually more becoming than the extreme flare.

"If you enjoy a fitted coat, this may be the year to buy on," says Miss Eastman, "for it is the newest and most fashionable silhouette. If you expect to wear it over suits, be sure it is easy-fitting, with deep-cut armholes."

The clothing specialist says that straight outlines also are very good, both in Chesterfields and softer, dressmaker-type coats. Full-length coats are in the majority, she explains with 30-, 33- and 40-inch models most often mentioned in the shorter versions.

"You will find thick, fleecy fabrics, curly poodle cloths, angoras and mohairs, ribbed and nubby wools, tweeds nd zibeline fabrics from which to choose. Zibeline is a smooth, hairy, napped fabric," she continues.

And the fabrics used inside are important too, she says. Colorful linings add a gray note to many of the new fall coats.

Sunday Church School at 9:45 a.m. with classes for all ages.

Church Worship Service at 11:00 a.m. with inspriation for all.

This coming Sunday the local W.Y.F. Group will be host to the W.Y.F. Groups of the Petoskey Presbytery. This will include groups from Lake City, Caddillac, Elk Rapids, Boyne City, Petoskey, Harbor Springs and our own. A fine program of information and fellowship has been planned by the Presbytery Cabinet, which will include, a colored film on Japan. Supper will be served by the local group during which there will be fine fellowship and singing. The principal speaker for the Rally will be Mrs. Black, from New York. Mrs. Black, with three other women representing ou church spent some weeks in Europe last spring on a Good will tour from our Women's organization, encouraging the church women in Europe. Her story of the "mustard seeds" is one of real inspiration.

On Thursday October, 25th, the men of the church will have the pleasure of hearing Dr. Rogers of Bellaire. Dr Rogers is one of the able layman in our area, who puts his talents to use not only in his profession but also in his church. He always has a fine message of inspiraion to all groups who hear him.

The women of the church will meet in Boyne City on Monday afternoon and evening for the Fall meeting of the Presbyterial Society of the Petoskey Presbytery. This too will be a fine meeting, and Mrs. Black will be present at this one. All women are encouraged to attend this meeting and hear the message of this fine woman.

Pasture Warning Given

A word of caution about pasturing frosted sudan grass and alfalfa was given to farmers this week.

Dr. Glen Reed, Michigan State College extension veterinarian, said that both are apt to cause bloat and may poison cattle. Chemists have reported a heavy prussic acid content in frosted sudan grass.

Reed advises taking the cows off such psture for a few days. If they are to be turned back on the pasture they should first get a full feed of hay or corn silage.

A big bonfire was built for the weiner roast. Besides hot dogs, potato chips, and pop was served.

We started back and arrived home at 9:30.

Second Grade — Mrs. Bowerman

Patsy Murphy's mother visited our room last week. We are always glad to have the parents call on us.

Suzanne Malpass' sister, Carol line came to our room and played an "Indian Dance" on the piano for us. We enjoyed it very much.

We had such a nice visit to the fire station last Thursday. Upon returning to our room we summorized what we had learned. We agreeded that the trip had been very interesting. For language on Friday we wrote a thank-you letter to Mr. Thompson.

Kenneth Sineway had his eighth birthday on Oct. 12. We played our birthday record for him and he passed candy treat for his classmates.

Nancy Lehrbass had her seventh birthdy on Tuesday, the 16th. We played a birthday game for her and she passed a candy treat to her classmates.

Jane Graham brought a tiny pet rabbit to school on Monday. Our Pueblo reading group had a nice story about "Little Rabbit" so he was a welcome visitor of our class.

Our Chippewa reading group had a nice story about "The Pet Crow." Dale Looze kindly loaned us his pet crow. He was as black as Black Tim.

Nancy Lehrbass is our student teacher this week and Mary Boring is our librarian.

Second Grand — Mrs. Johnston

During our discussion periods we have been talking about the many signs of fall. We are making a collection of the fruit, vegetables, leaves, nuts and other things to put on one our library tables. They tell us that fall is here.

During fire prevention week, which was last week, we listened to stories and a play, which will help us to be careful around fire. One day last week we had a practice fire drill.

We are working on our new library center. We finished our new fireplace and we are now collecting a few pieces of furniture, such as a rocking chair and bookcase to make our library more attractive. Each of us are making a leaf booklet. So far, we have a maple, an elm and an oak leaf in our book. We are learning how to tell these leaves when we see them.

Jean Combest brought a cotton plant to school. Jean's daddy brought it back from Missouri. We learned that much of the clothing we wear came from the cotton plant.

A week ago, Tommy Graham brought his pet rabbit to school We all helped Tommy name his rabbit.

We like to work in our new number work books.

We are enjoying our Weekly Readers.,

Mrs. Murray, Mary Lou's mother, and Mrs. Williams, Charles' mother,, visited our room. We were glad to have them come to school. We made a parents' register to be used for Open House Wednesday evening. We hope to see many of our mothers' and fathers' names in it.

Third Grade — Mrs. Hughes

We took our Weekly Reader Test Monday. We hope to improve our scores next time by reading as much as we can before the next test.

We just got our new spelling workbooks. We haven't missed very much because we have been studying the words from the board.

We are having a review of the number factors in addition and subtraction to ten. We have been getting acquainted with our new arithmetic book. We like to read and do the story problems.

Last Friday we heard about Christopher Columbus. Monday Mrs. Drapeau taught us a song about him. We like to sing it.

Jody Malpass brought us three lovely large cutouts of a pumpkin, a turkey and a squirrel. They decorate our room. We enjoy seeing them every day.

Sixth Grade — Mrs. Larsen

We received our new spelling books on Monday. We are now on lesson six.

We takled about Columbus Day. Mrs. Larsen read a poem about the voyage of Columbus. Then we drew pictures of Columbus and his ships. Now we are working on a bulletin board showing Columbus and his three ships, the Santa Maria, the Pinta and the Nina.

We made a giant size match folder during "Fire Prevention Week." On each match stick we printed a safety rule for preventing fires. We decorated the cover by drawing firemen's hats and fireengines.

We are reading from booklets called Playing Safe with Safety Sam.

We saw a movie called Green Harvest. It was a fire prevention movie. We also had a fire drill.

Our news is reported by Nicky Myers.

The Servicemen's Letter

Hi Fellas:

We have three new addresses this week. They are: Pvt. Kenneth Richards, US 55, 187, 683, 6th Armored Division, Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri; Maurice K. Vance, 433-21-17. NATTC 23 North, Memphis, Tennessee; and Lt JG Roland F. Woodcock, USNR, USNTS, MUW, AA6, Newport, R.I.

Ken Richards, after hanging around in Fort Custer for a long time, finally got the go sign and took off for Fort Leonard Wood to join the armor. Bob Mosher and Murray Nelson — how about looking Ken up — introduce yourselves and make him feel at home there wih you.

Keith Vances mother came into the office this last week and proceeded to mail a parcel to Keith down in Memphis. That was the first that I knew about him being in the service although he went in way last July. She was just on her way up to the Herald Office to subscribe to this paper for Keith and I caughter her just in time. Keith, a young lady from East Jordan is there in Memphis with you. She is, Fern Morris, out at the US Naval Air Station and she calls Wave Barracks 137 her home just at present. She might be glad to see you. I know I would if I were that far from home all alone. Keith is in school just at present studying the technicalities of Aviaion Structure (Mechanical).

It was somewhat of surprise to me when I received Oggie Woodcocks letter this week. It was all news to me that they had taken him back into the service. He writes, "I suppose by now you know good old Uncle Sam has caught up with me again. Now that it's happened and I'm finally getting established I thought I'd drop you a line and let you know what I'm doing.

"Right now I'm an Instructor in the Officer Candidate School here at Newport. The candidates that are selected for the school are college graduates who take a four months course. They are instructed in the following: Navigation, Gunnery, Seamanship, Orientation and Naval Justice, Damage Control, Engineering, Military and Physical Education. At the completion of the course they are commissioned as Ensigns in he Naval Reserve and must serve three years active duty.

"I've been assigned to the orientation department. As yet I haven't started to teach as the classes in our department all have instructors. My department head told me he was going to get me assigned to the Naval Jusice School they have on the Base. At the completion of that school (7 weeks) I'm to start teaching. The school doesn't start until Nov. 7th, so in the meantime I've been trying to figure out what to do. Had a good solution this week — watched the baseball games on T.V."

Thanks for writing, Oggie, and say — if you aren't on duty this next week you better go down to the bay and see if you can locate the USS Formoe, just in from the West coast. Jim Meredith is aboard her and will be darn glad to see someone from home or I miss my guess. Incidentally, Jims wife, Gloria, will be out there soon and if you don't catch him they may look you up at the Base.

Anther man who wrote in from Rhode Island this last week is Hershel Young. Hersh is on his way overseas by now and he sent me this new address. Hershel C. Young, CM2, C.B.D. 1521, Port Lyentey, c/o FPO, New York, N.Y. He writes, "Well, Jake there it is and I have to be in Brooklyn the 20th of October for transfer to Africa for duty I understand it is very good duty there — close to Cassablanca and Robat. Claire Loomis was transferred to MCB 8 just before I got my orders. That makes 8 C.B. Battalions activated now besides the detachments they have. Well, Jake, when I get over there I will write and let you know how it is." Good luck, Hersh. It should be warm over there his winter anyway.

While on the subject of oceans, Navy, and Marines I might just as well put in this piece about Don Dixon. Don walked into the office this last week and said, "Hi Jake, what do you know? I've finished that school and now they're putting me on a tug boat. Nothing but big stuff for me, hey?" Anyway, Don will still be at Norfolk. He's been assigned to a tug operating out of Pier 7, Norfolk. He finished his welding course on Oct. 5th and is home for a one week leave before going back to active duty aboard the tug. Don said that he saw Glen Persons in Norfolk on Oct. 4th and 5th. They went out and had a swell time together. Glen is now on his way to Cuba, still aboard the USS Botetourt. Don Dixon ran into Don Braman in Norfolk just as Don Braman was on his way to board ship for Panama. Dixon said that Braman left for Panama on Oct. 6th. Dixon also said that he had been looking for Robert Cummins but hadn't had any success as yet. Perhaps here is the reason why.

Here's a letter from the Navy Department concerning Bud Cummins. "Robert E. Cummins is currently serving with the USS Minos (ARL-14) which is participating in Atlantic Fleet Exercises, scheduled for the Atlantic and Carribbean areas during Oct. and Nov. More than 100 Amphibious vessels are included in this operation in addition to carriers, cruisers and other type ships of the Atlantic Fleet. Marine ground and air units are also taking part in the war games, the first in 18 months, to be held in these waters. Two amphibious assults landings will be made, one at Vieques Island and the final assault scheduled for Onslow Beach, North Carolina."

Burl Braman got a letter from Don the other day which indicated that Don had made it safely to Panama. It gave his new address as: "Donald E. Braman, 1st Divison, USS Recovery (ARS 43), Box 2002, Rodman, Canal Zone. Don went to Panama by way of Cuba aboard an Army trnsport. He said the trip was mostly calm and good sailing. When he got to Cuba he wished he had his camera as the scenery there was beautiful. He is hoping to get back there as he thought he would really enjoy being stationed there for a time.

I had Wilbur Crafts address a little wrong two weeks ago. It is: Pvt Wilbur V. Craft, 36 864-305, Hq Co, 1st Bn, 7th Cav, APO 201, c/o PM, San Francisco, California. Mrs. Craft says that Wilbur was home in July for about a week just before going overseas. I wish you had dropped in to see me Wilbur. We could have talked a little about Fort Belvoir. Wilbur is now about 150 miles behind the front lines in Korea. He was on the front line for a time until he was assigned to Headquarters Company. He wries that he has been helping get the soldiers forward from the rear, lately.

On Friday, October 5th, Bob Farmer left Sampson AFB by plane bound for Scott AFB in Illinois. His new address is: Pfc Robert C. Farmer, AF 16 379 489, 3332 Stu Sqd, Box 501, Scott AFB, Illinois. There he will take up a course of study designed to make him into a radio technician. And is Bob ever happy about that. It is just what he wanted. Guess somebody was kidding you about being a cook, eh, Bob?

Tom Leu arrived safely at Edwards AFB out in California and sent along his new address as: 2nd Lt. Thomas Leu, PO Box O Temp, Edwards AFB, Calif.

Mrs. Murphy checked in with Gales new address this last week. She is going to join him when he finds a place for them to stay. Gales new address is: Pfc Gale Murphy, US 55 096 269, 34th Ord AAA, Main Det, Fort Sheridan, Illinois. Have you found that paymaster Gibbard yet, Gale? He's in Quarters 605-A just in case you were wondering.

Ivan Nemecek was here this last week and left this Monday for Camp Kilmer, New Jersey. When I asked him if that Kilmer being a POE (Port of Embarkation) meant anything he said that it sure did, darn it. He's evidently on his way overseas with several other Air Force boys, whether to England or Germany he does not know as yet. His address at present is Pfc Ivan Nemecek, 2266 PPQ, Camp Kilmer, New Jersey.

Bud Strehl writes from Calif., "Hi Jake. Thank the USMC for getting me out here for the winter. Been reading about your cold ter. Been reading about your cold going down. But here no; yesterday Weather Can see the coal pile we are going to enjoy this winter. Still playing golf, quite a lot and anything else to keep myself busy. Right now we are working on a deal to get back for the State — ND game. Everything is set except for one little deal. Living on base so if anyone from EJ in this area gets a weekend the address is: EF-2, Master Quarters, MCAS, El Toro, Calif. The base is small enough so the place is not hard to find, just inside the rear gate."

Shear Lamb Faces

Shearing the faces of heavily-wooled feeder lambs will increase gains, according to Graydon Blank, extension animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State College.

Blank explained that lambs can see better without a heavy crop of wool around their eyes. After shearing they'll find the feed trough more quickly, will eat better and will gain more rapidly.

FARM FACTS

from your County Agricultural Agent

Ed. Rebman, Co. Agr'l Agent

PLAN YOUR CHORES TO SAVE TIME:

A dairy cow requires about 150 man-hours of labor a year. This labor requirement is higher than for any other farm animal according to Ed Rebman, county agriculture agent.

There is a wide range in the time requirements per cow on dairy farms and studies have shown that one farmer may spend as little as 90 man-hours per dairy cow while another farmer with the same number of cows and same production may spend as much as 195 man-hours per cow.

Thirty-three herds of equal size and level of production were compared and the efficient workers average 114 man-hours per cow, while the least efficient average 156 man-hours.

Dairy barn arrangement accounted for much of the difference in time required to care for the dairy cow.

The loose housing pen-type of dairy barn requires the least number of hours per cow if properly laid out and managed. Poorly laid out pen-type barns are not labor-savers.

Stanchion barn operation requires planning and a good layout can reduce chore time considerably. Approximately 65 percent of the time spent in caring for dairy animals is spent at the business end of the cow. Fifteen to 20 percent of the time is spent in feeding the animal and the remainder of handling milk, taking care of the calves and in miscellaneous tasks.

The face-out arrangement that puts the tails together saves steps and time. Feed alleys should be wide enough to permit the use of carts and permit passage of the carts across the ends of the barn. Feeding grain can be a one trip task if the barn arrangement will permit.

Overhead storage of grain permits easy loading of feed carts. A grain storage layout that will provide overhead bin, gravity feed the grain to a small mill, elevate it back to overhead storage, and gravity feed the ground grain to a cart or manger will save many steps.

The easiest way to feed hay is to let the cows eat into the mow. Chopped or loose hay can be stored for this purpose. Chopped hay is hard to carry. Slide chopped hay across the hay mow floor and drop into the feed alley near where it is to be fed. Baled hay fits well into a stanchion barn feeding program, but not so well into open barn feeding programs.

Locate the milk house at the side of the barn near the end or at a cross walk between two rows of stanchions. Remember that a silo on one end of a barn and a milk house on the other end prevents any addition to the length of a barn.

THE EVILS OF FALL PLOWING:

Fall plowing tends to encourage wind and water erosion during late fall, winter and spring months as it eliminates all protective ground cover including crop residues, Ed Rebman county agricultural agent said today. Wind erosion is serious on Michigan's coarse sandy soils and on muck soil, while water erosion often becomes serious where slopes were greater than 5 percent.

Fall plowing prohibits the use of live-over-winter cover crops useful in control of winter and water erosion. In preventing use of these over-winter crops, such as rye, rye grass, and summer-seed sweet clover, fall plowing farmers are not adding as much organic matter and humus to their soils as possible.

These same over-winter cover crops are highly effective in preventing the leaching of valuable plant food while the land is not protected by regular rotation crops.

Another disavantage of fall plowing is the fact tht it hastens the decay of legumes such as clover and alfalfa sod and releases their nitrogen and other plant food elements to leach away, Rebman pointed out.

Don't belittle these erosion and leaching losses. Soil scientists believe that in many fields, more plant food is lost by leaching and errosion than is lost by cropping and grazing.

There are some advantages for fall plowing. Among them is the fact that it helps speed up the decay of green manure crops and crop residues, such as corn stalks and straw. This may lessen insect pest troubles the following growing season.

Furthermore, wetting and drying, freezing and thawing tend to promote that desirable crumb or granular structure or condition which is so important in the heavier soils. As these forces are more effective in recently plowed land, the fall plowing advantages in heavier soils is plainly evident.

County agent Rebman sums up the question this way. He says that farmers should never plow light, sandy soils or rolling land in the fall. Should fall plowing be necessary for one reason or another, it should be done as late as possible.
